Market Review

Malaysian Government Securities closed mixed in May 2020 with some selling pressure seen on the long end of the curve on the back of profit taking activities by investors. Meanwhile, some sporadic buying flows were seen on the short end to the belly of the curve as the curve steepened, following the stronger than expected 1Q20 GDP growth of 0.7% YoY in relative to consensus expectations of -1.0% YoY. MYR weakened by 1.0% against the USD to close the month at MYR4.3465.

The FBM100 grew by 6.6% MoM on 29 May 2020, outperforming regional Asia markets but in tandem with the developed markets on news of the gradual reopening of the various economies in phases. The local Index outperformed the MSCI Asia Ex Japan Index which fell by 0.2% in MYR terms over the same period. Foreigners were net sellers of the local market with a net outflow of RM3.0 bn in May 2020, bringing total foreign outflow to RM13.4 bn YTD.

Market Outlook

While Covid-19 pandemic will continue to linger until a credible vaccine is found, global central banks will remain largely accommodative in the monetary policy space while fiscal policy will remain expansionary in support of growth. Given the pre-emptive monetary and financial measures taken to support the domestic economy thus far, we think that further OPR easing is less likely at this juncture, unless 2Q20 GDP disappoints or that the country is hit by a second wave of Covid-19 which warrants lockdown measures. Coupled with the suppressed oil prices and re-escalation of US China tensions, we expect interest rate volatility will remain for the time being. That said, local bond market shall continue to be supported by ample onshore liquidity.

On the equity front, while the reopening of economies globally and the monetary easing measures taken by Bank Negara Malaysia are positive to the equity market, we remain cautious amid concerns over the risk of a sudden spike in new infections due to the relaxation of movement restrictions. If the situation worsens, the strategy would inevitably turn defensive due to potential downgrades in macro fundamentals and corporate earnings. We continue to look for buying opportunities in companies with good fundamentals and solid balance sheet to weather through this crisis.
