Market Review

In November, the Malaysian equity market edged lower with FBM100 index down 1.2% to close at 12,069 points. Local market outperformed MSCI Asia ex Japan Index which decreased by 2.7% in MYR terms prompted by profit taking in the technology sector. Malaysian government bond yields increased to 4.1% from 3.9% before ended the month lower at given the shift in the tone of Monetary Policy Statement. November saw net foreign outflows of about MYR15.4 million, marking the fourth consecutive month of outflows. In terms of sector performance, construction and property sectors underperformed during the month following the news of the MRT3 tender to 'build-and-finance' model which is perceived be a disadvantage to local contractors and the freeze on luxury property projects in Klang valley, respectively.

On the corporate front, key developments included the demerger exercise with the listing of Sime Darby Plantation Bhd and Sime Darby Property Bhd and the removal of Digi from the Shariah-compliant list. Notable price movements were seen ahead of potential changes in the component stocks of the FBMKLCI Index. FTSE Russell and Bursa Malaysia jointly announced that Westports and Sime Darby Property will be removed from the FBM100 Index with effect from 6 December 2017 while Nestle Bhd and Press Metal to replace British America Tobacco and IJM Corp effective 18 December 2017.

Market Outlook

For fixed income, domestic institutions should lend support to the bond market over the near term. On the external front, the December FOMC meeting has priced in closed to 98.0% of interest rate hike by another 25 bps. Any hawkish remarks by major central banks will likely weigh on the sentiment of regional bond markets, including Malaysia's.

Moving forward, the positive tone in global markets could continue given the robust economic data from the US and the decent earnings reported by domestic banks in the recent third quarter results. With the President Trump's tax reform plans having passed the Senate, Congress is expected to ratify before going to the President Trump. On the local front, earnings momentum have picked up in the third quarter driven by the banking sector. With no major domestic macro data anticipated, the focus may switch to foreign fund flows.
