Market Review

Malaysian Government Securities ("MGS") traded mixed in August 2023. Short-end yields moved lower amidst optimism that Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) will keep the Overnight Policy Rate ("OPR") on hold for the rest of 2023. On the long end of the curve, yields moved higher, weighed by weakness in US Treasuries ("UST") and pressured by increased primary supply of long-dated bonds during the month. The earlier part of the month saw some decent demand by local investors especially after the conclusion of the state elections, however, sentiment deteriorated in the final 2 weeks of the month, as UST yields soared to 15-year highs. The UST market was burdened by large primary supply and investors also began to price in the potential for more hikes by the Federal Reserve after data releases indicated that the services sector and labour market remains robust.

Developed and Asia Pacific markets corrected in August 2023 with S&P500 Index and MSCI Europe fell by 1.78% and 2.71%, respectively and MSCI AC Asia Pacific ex Japan Index declined by 6.61% in USD terms. US Consumer Price Index ("CPI") accelerated for the second consecutive month, registered at 3.7% in August 2023 from 3.2% in July 2023, mainly driven by the rising oil prices over the past 2 months.

The FBMKLCI ("Index") corrected 0.51% Month-on-Month ("MoM") to close at 1,451.94 pts on 30 August 2023. The Index outperformed the MSCI Asia Ex Japan Index, which fell 3.88% MoM in Malaysia Ringgit ("MYR") terms over the same period. Foreign investors stayed net buyers of Malaysian equities amounting to MYR0.14 billion in August 2023 while local institutions turned net buyers with net buy value of MYR0.43 billion.

Market Outlook

Although recent inflation readings and economic data from the US have shown signs of moderation, the US Federal Reserve ("Fed") continues to reiterate the need to maintain tighter monetary policy amidst robust labour market data. Despite this, it is apparent that we are at the tail-end of the rate normalisation cycle, with potentially one final hike by the Fed in 2023. Domestically, BNM has kept the OPR unchanged at its recent Monetary Policy Committee ("MPC") meeting. Against the backdrop of moderating inflation expectations as well as growth outlook in 2H23, the possibility of further OPR hikes for the rest of the year may be remote at this juncture, barring the uncertain timing of subsidy rationalization. Moving forward, we expect rate volatility to remain due to uncertainties surrounding economic data and central banks' future monetary policy moves as market conditions evolve. We are cautiously optimistic on the equity and fixed income market in the near term.
