Market Review

Government Investment Issue weakened in Apr 2019 amid weaker MYR and profit taking activities by both onshore and offshore investors following the strong rally in the first few months of the year. Investor sentiment was further dampened following the news of Norwegian sovereign fund's intention to reduce its emerging markets' fixed income holdings to make way for its equities, as well as FTSE Russell's statement of putting Malaysia on its watch list for a potential disqualification from its flagship World Government Bond Index. Selling pressure was seen mainly on the belly of the curve although there was some dip-buying from domestic investors. MYR weakened by 1.3% against the greenback to close the month at MYR4.1347.

The FBMS rose 1.3% m-o-m in April despite concerns over the potential short-term weakness in MYR due to the potential exclusion of Malaysia from the FTSE Russell World Government Bond Index. Foreigners were again net sellers of the local market with a net outflow of MYR1.5 billion during the month, bringing year-to-date net outflow to MYR2.9 billion. In terms of sector performance in April, Construction and Energy outperformed. On the corporate front, key news included Yinson's proposed acquisition of Singapore-based Ezion Holdings and Axiata's announcement that its subsidiary Ncell Private Ltd has received a letter issued by the Nepalese Large Taxpayers Office to pay an outstanding sum of capital gains tax of NPR39.06 billion by April 22.

Market Outlook

Global central banks remain dovish and as trade tension further escalates, fixed income assets remain appealing relative to risk assets. On potential offshore outflows of domestic government bonds due to headlines surrounding index exclusion, ample onshore liquidity shall remain supportive of the local sukuk market, albeit a knee-jerk market reaction is not ruled out in the worst-case scenario of an exclusion.

Locally, recent comments by President Trump on the US-China trade deal have caused jitters in the market. But we see any market weakness as an opportunity to accumulate fundamentally solid companies with good earnings visibility. Despite the current volatility, we expect the equity market to gradually recover over the long run, underpinned by Malaysia's strong macroeconomic fundamentals. We expect the local market to deliver mid-single digit returns for 2019, driven by still positive earnings growth and further certainty over the government's policy direction over time.
