Market Review

Malaysian government bonds rallied across the curve in March 2016, riding on stronger Ringgit and firmer US treasuries. As of end-March, Ringgit strengthened against the USD by 7.2% to 3.8995 supported by higher oil price. Foreign holding in MGS stood at 47.5% in February, reduced from 47.9% in January due to increase in outstanding MGS from the MYR4bn issuance of 7.5-year MGS. In the primary market, BGSM Management (MYR300mil), Malaysia Airline Berhad (MYR1.5bil) and Sime Darby Berhad (MYR2.2bil) were the issuers who tapped the bond market amongst others.

During the month, FBM100 Index rebounded strongly by 3.67% to end the month at 11,619 points, outperforming MSCI Asia ex-Japan, which increased by 2.54% in MYR term. The strong rally of local market was supported by foreign funds flowing back into Emerging Market, including Malaysia. Bursa Malaysia saw foreigner net buying of RM6.1bil in March 2016, which accumulated year-to-date net buying of RM5.5bil after offsetting the foreigner net selling in early of the year. This had resulted in strong Ringgit which broke the MYR3.90/USD level for the first time in 8 months. In addition, rising Brent oil prices up to USD40/barrel also contributed to Ringgit strength.

On foreign front, MSCI Asia ex Japan equities surged by 11.1% (in USD term) outperformed its developed peers. Chinese equities rebounded 12% in March (in RMB term) recording the biggest monthly gain since May 2015. The strong performance was driven by the fading RMB depreciation fears and favorable government measures.

Market Outlook

For fixed income, a rebound in oil prices in recent week, if sustainable, will boost confidence on Malaysian economy that may drive further inflows of foreign funds into Malaysian bond market. Despite recent strong data out from United States, we expect the pace of Fed hike will be gradual and the loose monetary stance adopted by regional countries will be supportive of Malaysian bond.

For local equity, in the short run, we expect market to start gaining momentum on recovery mode backed by continued strengthening of crude oil prices, Ringgit and crude palm oil prices. Sale of 1MDB's power assets and Bandar Malaysia to China enterprises is also expected to restore investors' confidence and give further support to Ringgit. For foreign equity, we maintain our preference of North Asia over ASEAN in the longer term as recovery in US and Europe will benefit exporters in North Asia and valuations are still attractive.
